FEDERAL BANK BILL STARTS TALK OF NEW MONEY

Issues Warning On Fast Growing Cost Of Superannuation

Provincial Secretary Submits Report of Norman Baker, Superannuation Commissioner, to Legislature, Showing $373,647 Paid Annually in Pensions

Number of Workers Going on Pension in Last Year Large and Increase in Allowances Described as Tremendous

A note of warning on the growing cost of paying municipal pensions in British Columbia while contributions to superannuation funds have been considerably reduced, is sounded by Norman Baker, superannuation commissioner, in a report submitted to the B.C. Legislature through Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary.

B.C. government and civic pensioners number 829 and receive total pensions of $373,647 annually.

The number of workers going on the pension list has been rapidly increasing, says the report, which is up to the end of the last fiscal year, and this has created an increase in the amount payable in allowances which is described as tremendous.

Over a three-year period the amount payable to pensioners of municipalities has increased more than 75 per cent. Mr. Baker quotes the peak year of 1930-31, when the number of pension allowances in force was 314 and the total amount paid out was $136,634.

By the end of the last fiscal year the pensioners had increased to 829 and the total payments to $373,647.

Mr. Baker says that the increase in the number of pensioners is due to the fact that the number of workers going on pension is increasing rapidly.

The report shows that there are 209 B.C. government employees on pension, the number having increased by twenty-five in twelve months, and 630 city, municipal and school board employees on pension, the number having increased by 140 during the year.

A total amount of $125,266 is paid to the government employees on pension, and $248,381 to the civic pensioners.

Contributions were made by the employees of the B.C. government during the year of $182,826 and by municipal and school board employees of $242,384. During the year 418 employees of the government, 790 municipal employees and 104 school board employees were making voluntary contributions to the pension fund.

A table accompanying the report shows a wide range in the pension payments on the municipal list, some of which are guaranteed for life and some for as low as five years. Some of the pensioners receive cheques as low as $5 a month, and there are many in the classes ranging between $10 and $40. A small proportion run to $100 or more. One or two run over $150.

WATER SHORTAGE IN GREAT BRITAIN

London, Feb. 23.—Although the ministry of health announces there is at present no reason for general alarm over water shortage, reports arriving to-day from nearly every part of the country reveal the shortage is rapidly becoming acute.

Unless there is considerable rainfall very soon the shortage is likely to last until the end of the summer.

STRIKE IS SPREADING

Logging Dispute Threatens to Tie Up All Camps on Vancouver Island

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, Feb. 23.—Strike of island loggers, it was indicated to-day, may spread to every camp on Vancouver Island.

Striking loggers of the Thomson and Clark camp at Howe Lake, embracing eight-five white and twenty Japanese employees, at a mass meeting held last night were informed that the strike would spread to involve every camp on Vancouver Island, unless the demands of the men were met.

The strikers were told that all married men would be taken care of at home and that camps would be established for the single men with funds provided through the medium of the Workers' International Relief.

MEN'S DEMANDS
The loggers are striking for a wage schedule based upon the wage schedule drawn up last December in Vancouver at a conference sponsored by the Lumbermen's Industrial Union.

The minimum wage was set up at $3.26 for unskilled labor and runs up to $6.50 for experienced riggers. The men also demand the right to organize in camp.

The first strike on Vancouver Island was declared January 22 at the Bloddel, Stewart and Welch camp at Menzies Bay, Campbell River. Men of the Alberni-Pacific camp and at Squamish have also joined the strike.

EDUCATION COSTS STATED TOO HIGH
Lethbridge, Feb. 23.—Sir Henry Drayton, chairman of the sound public finance committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, said in an interview here to-day that "three times the money spent per head for the general population in 1913 on education is directed into that channel to-day."

"It is not penny wise, we have certainly been pound foolish as regards our later day expenditures on education in Canada," said Sir Henry, who is touring Canada discussing publicly the problem of sound public finance.

Before the war, he said, Canada spent $44,000,000 on education. Now education cost nearly $170,000,000.

Famous English Composer of Music Dies in His Seventy-seventh Year; Wrote "Land of Hope and Glory"

Canadian Press
Worcester, Mass., Feb. 23.—Edward Elgar, O.M., one of the most distinguished British composers in history, died to-day in his seventy-seventh year.

Death came quietly to the man who put English orchestral and choral music among the world's greatest, at his home here early to-day. After a protracted illness following an operation in October last.

Sir Edward, who in 1911 was given the Order of Merit, since 1924 had held the historic post of Master of the King's Music. His first great work was the "Pomp and Circumstance" marches, the "Cockaigne" and "In the South" overtures.

Trading Board For B.C. Proposed By Victoria Member

Byron Johnson Outlines Plan to Open Markets For Products of Province on Limited Basis; Exemptions From Dominion Tariffs For Certain Goods Included

Creation of a marketing or trading board by British Columbia itself, or in co-operation with the Prairie Provinces and the Dominion Government was advocated by Byron Johnson, first member for Victoria, in his maiden speech in the Legislature this afternoon.

This board, he said, should have power to bring into the province free of duty merchandise and articles which are needed in exchange for goods sold up to the value of fifty per cent.

If the province exported $1,000,000 worth of goods to England through the trading board it would have the right to bring in $500,000 worth of goods duty-free, he explained.

While this policy, which amounts to a semi-free trade arrangement, might meet with opposition from eastern manufacturers, Mr. Johnson declared it was an economic impossibility for the people of B.C. to continue subsidizing factories in Ontario and Quebec.

For instance, he said there were 35,000 automobiles in British Columbia now from Ontario factories and British Columbians had paid an average of $400 a vehicle above the world market price for these cars, or a total of $14,000,000.

Combining other articles with this would run the total into hundreds of millions.

"Unfortunately for the western provinces very little of our products are consumed in eastern Canada, with the result that it is necessary for us to pay in cash for the goods from Ontario and Quebec," Mr. Johnson said.

Other words we sell our goods in the cheapest market for cash and buy our requirements in one of the dearest markets for cash. This is an impossible situation and, in my opinion, has more to do with our present economic position than any other factor.

Toronto, Feb. 23.—Legal authorities point out that Leo Gallagher, San Francisco lawyer for the International Labor Defence League, who will be here for the trial for seditious utterances next week of Rev. Gallagher is not a member of the Ontario bar and will not be allowed to speak during the court proceedings.

CHARGES AGAINST INSURANCE RING

Canadian Press
Toronto, Feb. 23.—The Toronto Mail and Empire to-day said Attorney-General William H. Price of Ontario would take steps shortly to "smash" an alleged insurance policy "racket" that had cost residents of Hamilton, Toronto, Windsor and other Canadian centres several hundred thousand dollars in the last year.

The persons who lost their money, the paper added, were "chiefly poor, foreign-born people." The Attorney-General was acting on the advice of R. Lighthill Foster, Ontario superintendent of insurance, and of provincial police.

PLAN TO HALT DEBATE FAILS

Opposition Leader's Motion Shutting Out Other Speakers Defeated

Debate on the Speech from the Throne would have ended immediately if a motion moved by Rev. Robert Connell, Leader of the Opposition, had carried in the Legislature yesterday.

Newly elected members, including Mr. Connell's C.C.F. friends, would have been forced to forego maiden speeches for the present. The motion would have shut off the debate during which, as in the budget debate, members are given latitude to freely voice their ideas on things in general rather than on a specific subject, as in other debates.

Closing what was probably the shortest speech of a leader of the opposition in the Legislature, Mr. Connell expressed the C.C.F. desire to aid in bringing about policies which would assure work and wages and to expedite the business of the House, moved the motion thanking the Lieutenant-Governor for his speech be put forthwith.

H. C. Winn, C.C.F. Vancouver East, seconded the motion of his leader.

The motion met with the quick refusal of Mr. Connell's opponents, who on an appeal to the House by the Speaker the motion of the Opposition Leader was overwhelmingly defeated.

The defeat of the motion leaves the way open for all new members to freely offer their views to the Legislature, as promised by Premier Pattullo.

IRENE BICK IS MISSING

Well-known Young Violinist of Victoria Disappears During Trip to Seattle

Miss Irene Bick, well-known young violinist of Victoria, was missing when the Ss. Princess Alice reached Seattle yesterday evening at 9.30 o'clock from Victoria. Miss Bick left yesterday afternoon to take a violin lesson in Seattle this morning and to play with the Seattle Symphony Orchestra at a concert this evening.

Her traveling bag, violin, United States immigration landing card and a note addressed to Mrs. H. M. Dumbleton, 634 Michigan Street, with whom she had resided, were found in the cabin when stewards entered it shortly after the steamer reached Seattle. Friends stated this morning that Miss Bick left Victoria in high spirits and was much excited at the prospects of playing with the symphony, acknowledged to be one of the finest on the coast.

By dint of hard work and much study, Miss Bick had become one of the finest violinists in Victoria and was also known in Seattle and Vancouver. She was educated at the Girls' Central School and the Victoria High School and then went to Seattle where she studied at the Cornish School for several years. In recent years she had frequently gone to Seattle for lessons.

She was born twenty-eight years ago on the prairies. She made frequent appearances in Victoria, one of her last being with the Arion Club at the Empress Hotel just before Christmas, when she rendered a brilliant group.

BELOW ZERO ON PRAIRIES TO-DAY
Winnipeg, Feb. 23.—A chilly display of minus signs before thermometer readings greeted the populace of the prairies to-day.

Change Status Of B.C. Agent-General
Under a bill introduced in the B.C. Legislature yesterday the Agent-General for the province in London is placed in the category where the government can dispose of his services any time it sees fit. The amendment to the bill says "the shall hold office during the pleasure of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council."

Throngs Cheer As Leopold Takes Oath As Belgian King

Brussels Lays Aside Mourning For Late Albert I and Greets His Son As He Gives Pledge on Ascending Throne

By Albert W. Wilson
Associated Press Foreign Staff
Brussels, Feb. 23.—A new King of the Belgians, Leopold III, was enthroned to-day when the former crown prince took the oath to defend the constitution before both Houses of Parliament.

He officially became king, succeeding his father, the late Albert I, at the conclusion of the reciting of the oath at 11 a.m.

The thirty-two-year-old monarch spoke the brief oath in French and repeated it in Flemish before the legislators and assembled dignitaries.

AMBASSADORS CHEER
A splendid array of foreign representatives and diplomats, lavishly decorated, Chamber of Deputies cheered the new ruler with the same enthusiasm as did thousands of people who watched him on his way to the Parliament Building from the royal castle at Laeken.

Some sections along the route showed less enthusiasm than others, but there were no organized counter-manifestations.

For the most part Brussels was in a merry mood. Overnight the populace seemed to have kept a duplicate set of books.

Annulment of Contract With Reimbursement For Company Planned
Legislative approval of the action of the government in cancelling the Ladner Bridge contract, passed at the last session of the B.C. Legislature, will be sought in a bill which was introduced in the House yesterday.

An intimation to the company that legislation would be brought forward to cancel the contract was given within a few weeks after the present government assumed office. Members of the government when in opposition in the previous House registered their objections to the agreement at the time it was before the Legislature, on account of the guarantee from the government which it called for and the government road expenditure it entailed.

The bill brought forward yesterday provides for the annulment of the contract entered into with the company and also makes provision for reimbursement of the company for money expended.

The petition for the Fraser River Bridge, under which a charter is sought for the erection of a bridge across the Fraser, was received.

SEVEN REASONS
Seven reasons why the Ladner Bridge agreement should not have been entered into by the late government are cited in the annulment bill.

The agreement is described as a "grossly imprudent character," for the following causes:

NEW BANK WILL TAKE OVER GOLD

Unofficial Estimates Only Bring Smiles From Officials at Ottawa, Who Maintain Silence; Financing of Public Works Mentioned in Discussion

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Feb. 23.—Unofficial financial experts and students of monetary movements were busy with pencil and paper to-day endeavoring to figure out the inflationary possibilities of the central bank bill now before the House of Commons, while government officials remained smilingly silent under questioning as to future currency issues.

As far as appears on the surface, the power of the government to issue new money remains unchanged from the status outlined by Prime Minister Bennett last November, when he indicated there was sufficient gold coverage in the treasury to justify an issue of an additional $100,000,000. He hinted that what he might be handing of this authority to finance public works—at least that was the interpretation placed by many on his remarks. Because of the uncertainty of external circumstances, it is not expected any step toward revaluation of Canadian money will be attempted in the near future.

The new central bank will take over the approximately $70,000,000 in gold now in the Dominion treasury, and between $30,000,000 and $40,000,000 held by the banks. The note issue to be controlled by the Bank of Canada, the new central bank, must have at least 25 per cent gold coverage.

The Dominion note issue is around $180,000,000 and the chartered bank note issue about $180,000,000. Assuming both Dominion and bank note issues could be replaced at once—a total of $360,000,000—the central bank (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

Senate Again Is To Vote On Sweepstakes

Senator Barnard Sponsors Measure For Lotteries in Canada For Hospitals

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Feb. 23. — For the second year in succession a British Columbia Senator is sponsoring a bill to legalize sweepstakes in Canada. Senator G. H. Barnard, Conservative, Victoria, yesterday moved second reading of the same bill which passed the Senate on motion of A. D. McLean, Conservative, Vancouver, last year, only to meet defeat in the House of Commons.

The measure would empower the Attorney-General of any province to appoint a committee to conduct sweepstakes or lotteries for the maintenance of hospitals within a province. The Attorney-General would make regulations for the conduct and distribution of funds and a proper audit.

In British Columbia, Senator Barnard said, the financial necessities of the hospitals were great. The government had been compelled to reduce grants and to take revenue from the municipalities which left these organizations unable to contribute as formerly. Income from patients' fees were reduced.

NEW MARKETING
CONTROL URGED
Federal and Provincial Legislation Needed, Says Fraser
Valley Farm Leader

New Westminster, Feb. 23. — Problems affecting the dairy industry and the farmers generally could only be solved by federal and provincial marketing control legislation, J. W. Miller, Lulu Island, president of the Fraser Valley Milk Producers' Association, stated in his report at the annual convention of the big milk co-operative held here yesterday.

He referred to the benefits received from the operations of the Dairy Products Sales Adjustment Act during its short life. With the objective of orderly and profitable marketing in the board of directors, stated Mr. Miller, in conjunction with governing bodies of other agricultural co-operative associations, was urging legislation in the federal house and also at the present session of the provincial Legislature.

"To-day," said the president, "we have the example of the English and Welsh farmers working along such lines under the British Agricultural Act and making a success of it."

"Whereas, at our first attempt, we had the suspicion and hostility of the public to contend with, we now find public sentiment in favor of anything that will place better conditions in a prosperous condition."

Mass Production Of Houses Foreseen

Associated Press
Spokane, Wash., Feb. 23. — Mass production of small order houses, that could be put together in a couple of days with a screwdriver and a monkey wrench, was predicted before the Western Retail Lumbermen's Association convention here yesterday.

Ben H. Hansen, Portland, president of the Oregon Savings and Loan League, prophesied the birth of gigantic, nation-wide corporations, financed partly by government funds, to profit by the shortage of suitable homes throughout the nation. He said construction of 50,000 new houses annually was needed in the United States.

BANK INTEREST LIMITS SET

Bill Before Commons Provides Penalties For Above
7 Per Cent

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Feb. 23. — Seven per cent would be the maximum rate of interest allowed in the amendments to the Bank Act, Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, said in explaining the bill to the House of Commons yesterday.

The Macmillan report had considered a bank charging a higher interest rate would be liable to a fine not exceeding $500. Every officer of a bank who violated the maximum interest-limiting clause would be guilty of an offence and liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding $100, the Minister said.

"It will be recalled much controversy has waged recently over the precise effect and the wisdom of the provision in the present Bank Act stipulating a maximum rate of interest," he remarked. "Experience in other countries has shown the attempt to restrict interest rates is usually ineffective and expedient in the public interest."

NOT UNANIMOUS
"After weighing the considerations pro and con," he continued, "the commission was unable to reach a unanimous agreement. Although it might be possible to repeal the section, members of the commission were of the opinion we should adopt the methods that had been found most effective in Great Britain of removing the limitation altogether."

"The commissioners, however, contended the statutory maximum still serves a useful purpose, that adequate provision for repelling the section should be retained. The present draft retains the statutory maximum, but provides that we believe will be appropriate penalties in case of conviction."

FALSE NEWS CHARGE IS NOT PRESSED

Canadian Press
St. Thomas, Ont., Feb. 23. — Eugene Dickinson, who posed as a young widow under the name of Jean Cranall and caused excitement recently by pretending to inherit a Chicago fortune of $60,000 while working on a farm here, was allowed his freedom again when he appeared in magistrate's court yesterday.

A charge of spreading false news, had been lodged against him. The charge was one on which it would be impossible to proceed, except in the Supreme Court, and it was held of insufficient importance.

In dismissing Dickinson, the magistrate warned him he would have to get out of the country if he wished to avoid being arrested again on a charge of vagrancy. He also warned him the farmers he had duped might seek to revenge themselves on him.

The children, declared by the crown to have died because they ate a large, poisoned candy allegedly intended for their stepmother, were Jacques and Philippe Raymond, aged five and three respectively, children of Alderman Gregoire Raymond by his second wife.

STATEMENT ON RECIPROCITY

Bennett Tells Commons of Favorable Declaration By U.S. State Secretary

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Feb. 23. — Negotiations aiming at a reciprocal trade arrangement between Canada and the United States moved a step forward yesterday when Prime Minister Bennett took the unusual course of reading the House of Commons the text of a statement issued to the press on Wednesday by United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull.

This expressed the hope that at an early date steps might be taken looking to the competition of a trade agreement with Canada.

Following reports of the reciprocity debate in the House last week, Mr. Hull had issued a statement of the United States attitude toward reciprocity, and it was this which the Prime Minister read to the House. The statement follows:

"Trade between the United States and Canada is larger in normal times than that between any other countries in the world, and it is natural that both countries should desire to restore the reciprocal flow of commodities to normal proportions. We hope to be in a position at an early date to take steps looking to the completion of a trade agreement with Canada which will further the interests of both countries. We hope first to bring into practical application the 'good neighbor' policy between these two great countries which have so much in common."

C.N.R. AUDIT PLAN CRITICIZED

Liberal Leader Tells Commons It Is Giving Up One of Its Rights

Canadian Press
Ottawa, Feb. 23. — The House of Commons was surrendering its right to exclusive control over money matters in sharing with the Senate responsibility for appointing the auditors for the accounts of the Canadian National Railways, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, contended yesterday evening. The House, in committee of the whole, was discussing the measure, which names George A. Touché and Co. of Toronto and Montreal as C.N.R. auditors.

Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways, explained the railway bill of last session provided for this appointment by resolution of Parliament, and Parliament comprised not only the House of Commons but the Governor-General and the Senate also.

The measure was approved on division and now stands for third reading.

BRITISH STEEL REORGANIZATION

London, Feb. 23. — A far-reaching plan for reorganization of the British iron and steel industry was adopted by the Federation of Iron and Steel Manufacturers, on a vote of 79 to 28 yesterday evening.

The plan provides for a quota system on production, control of sales and prices, a levy on home sales to stimulate the export trade, freedom of all export deliveries from quota restrictions, and formation of an export body under general control of the reorganized national steel federation to handle export sales and control all imports during a fixed period, probably five years.

Fourteen different trades are embraced in the scheme, which it is hoped will be working efficiently within a few months.

It is also hoped the plan will be regarded as sufficiently satisfactory to enable the government to continue production.

"There's the doorbell again"

SUPPOSE daily to your door came the butcher, the grocer, the clothier, the furrier, the furniture man, and every other merchant with whom you deal? What a tedium of doorbell answering that would mean!

It would be even more impractical for you to visit daily all these stores to find out what they have to offer and the price.

And yet you need those merchants' service quite as much as they need your patronage. Contact between seller and consumer is essential in the supplying of human needs. Before a sale can be closed the goods must be offered. Every day, through the advertising columns of this newspaper, the merchants of this city come to your home with their choicest wares. Easily, quickly, you get the news of all that is worthwhile in the market-places of the world.

They are not strangers at the door, but merchants you know and trust. You are always surer of high quality and fair price when you buy an article advertised by a reputable firm.

NEARLY 20,000 MILES OF ROAD

Some Maintenance Done By Relief Workers, Legislature Learns

British Columbia now has 19,279.35 miles of highways coming directly under provincial supervision. It is shown in the report of the Department of Public Works for the year 1933-34, tabled in the B.C. Legislature yesterday.

Of this total 2,613.60 miles are cleared only, 10,197.13 miles are ordinary earth, sand and clay, and 6,068.62 miles are gravel or waterbound macadam. There are 24.45 miles of fully paved road and 935 miles bituminous-surfaced.

Work carried out during the year was not as extensive as that of the previous year, but results were claimed in the report to be entirely satisfactory, and many projects started in 1931 were completed.

Considerable work was accomplished by settlers and local residents in return for direct relief disbursed by the government, the policy being to require all able-bodied men receiving direct relief to perform in return an equivalent amount of work at 35 cents an hour.

An increase in traffic over the Cariboo Highway was recorded.

On fifty-five ferries operating in the province were carried 281,228 automobiles, 64,616 trucks, 24,291 pigs, 1,012,318 passengers, 31,142 tons of freight and 31,746 head of livestock.

Sir Edward Elgar Is Called By Death

From his sick bed at home he assisted by telephone in recording for the phonograph one of his earlier compositions. Listening through an amplifier at his bedside, he relayed his criticisms and suggestions to the leader who actually was directing the orchestra.

BORN IN WORCESTERSHIRE

Sir Edward was born at Broadheath, Worcestershire, June 2, 1857. In 1889 he married Caroline Alice Roberts, daughter of the late Maj.-General Sir Henry Gee Roberts. She died in 1920. Edward Elgar was knighted in 1904 and made a Knight Commander of the Victorian Order in 1928.

Sir Edward Elgar, acknowledged as one of the greatest of all English composers, had the rare experience of being acclaimed a genius during his lifetime.

His three oratorios, "The Dream of Gerontius," "The Apostles" and "The Kingdom" are said to be unique in modern British music and contain many of the composer's English characteristics which made his works popular to the music lovers of his generation.

Equally as well liked are his other masterpieces, "The Two Symphonies," "The Two Concertos" for violin and cello and "The Enigma Variations." Sir Edward was an Honorary Freeman of the City of Worcester, the recipient of many degrees and honors from continental musical academies. He was a Doctor of Music of Yale University and a Doctor of Laws of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

He was born almost in the shadow of the famous Worcester Cathedral. He was the eldest of seven boys and girls. Although musically inclined from the earliest youth, Sir Edward was unable to take regular lessons and virtually taught himself how to play on various instruments.

When he was about twelve years old he became acquainted with Beethoven's music and the "First Symphony" made such an impression on him that he never lost his admiration for the great composer.

At fifteen years of age, Sir Edward became an organist to his father. He was born almost in the shadow of the famous Worcester Cathedral. He was the eldest of seven boys and girls. Although musically inclined from the earliest youth, Sir Edward was unable to take regular lessons and virtually taught himself how to play on various instruments.

In 1885 he married Major-General Sir Henry Gee Roberts's daughter, Caroline Alice, who aided him in his musical work.

London publishers looked askance at Sir Edward's music during two years' residence in the capital. It was not until ten years later that he really began to take his place in the musical world.

UNSTABLE CHARACTERISTICS
When he is not seeking God, he is singing the praises of vigorous health and triumphant England," declared a famous English critic a few years ago. "There is no getting away from the Elgar touch; his accent, his idiom, his flavor is as unmistakable as that of Wagner, Strauss and Brahms."

Always does the music of Elgar speak of a big life; his finest works may always be charged with the manly bold and bright color of simple, active life and energy than the "Cockaigne" and the "In The South" overtures, not to mention the "Pomp and Circumstance" marches—and these great tunes have

OF RETIRING DISPOSITION
In disposition Sir Edward Elgar was retiring, but amiable. In all sincerity he derided the notion that he had any claim to eminence. England, he said on one occasion, was not a musical nation and never would be. As soon as the country was musical it would cease to be English. But, he added, the English liked a tune. In London people liked to sing, but when it came to serious music it was the most unmusical city in the world. "We Englishmen," Sir Edward remarked, "have never produced any music used at only transported from Victoria, when funerals, and no one thinks he is properly married unless Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" is played." A few years ago a bequest of $35,000 was left to Sir Edward Elgar by Leo Francis Schuster of Bury, Berks. The testator said Elgar had "saved my country from the reproach of having produced no composer worthy to rank with the Great Masters."

SAY LONGSHOREMEN FAIRLY TREATED
Ladysmith, Feb. 23.—In discussing business arising from the conference between the Board of Trade and the City Council, Alderman Vandecasteyen was inclined to believe the resolution on local longshoremen's problems was rather hasty.

At yesterday evening's meeting of the council he declared he had ascertained some illuminating facts on the matter, and that stereotyping officials at the mainmast had accorded work to Lady Smith longshoremen whenever the opportunity presented itself. Labor was only transported from Victoria, when funerals, and no one thinks he is

ROTARY STAND Able Plea Voiced For Peace River

Position of Movement on Various Questions Explained by S. M. Armstrong

In a twenty-ninth birthday programme, which started with an address on the "Philosophy of Rotary" but quickly veered round to a question box, S. M. Armstrong, vice-president of the Victoria Rotary Club, gave members some idea of the concrete policies of the movement at luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

After voicing the mottoes of Rotary, "Service above self" and "He profits most who serves best," Mr. Armstrong was interrupted in his address to answer the question why Rotary stood for a membership basis of one man only from one classification.

The speaker replied he thought the system was valuable inasmuch as it created friendships and contacts through a diversity of interests.

Some Rotary Clubs were finding it difficult to carry on under existing conditions, but Rotary International was assisting them in every way possible. Mr. Armstrong touched upon the value of Rotary in the small town, where it furnished an extra interest for members as well as a community interest.

There was no necessity felt for a national Rotary bill, in Canada to isolate the place of Rotary International, he said.

INTERNATIONAL INTEREST

Touching upon problems of an international nature with which the movement was dealing, he spoke of the consideration given by the different bodies to economic questions, to move to bring in new blood, to efforts to create greater friendships between conflicting nations and to move to avoid emulacry in the clubs.

He illustrated his remarks by citing the mediatory steps taken by Rotary in the Cuban troubles and in the Paraguayan and Bolivian quarrels.

Rotary had approached and convinced the Nazi authorities in Germany of its value. Mr. Armstrong stated.

POLITICAL STAND

Questioned on the movement's attitude to matters of political import, he stated Rotary aimed to avoid entanglement in matters of a controversial nature, but had no objection to the discussion of moral, social or economic conditions.

Business code writing had started in the Rotary Club, he added.

The speaker also touched upon the value of the movement as a public agency in community effort and dealt with its treatment of members violating ethical business codes.

During the meeting, P. B. Scrimgeour, in whose hands the programme was placed, introduced T. J. Goodlake as a charter member and the real originator of the local club. He also called upon Percy Abel, Arthur Mallett and Alex. Peden, charter members, to stand, and introduced James Adams, a Quaker, Frank Waring, J. H. Beatty, Frank Blashfield, Thos. Walker, Dr. A. H. Gordon, J. B. Tomlin, P. B. Scrimgeour, Robert Brinchley, C. Penderay and Walter Clubb as pioneers in the movement.

HOODLESS DAY COMMEMORATED

The world growth of the Women's Institute movement was the theme of an address by Mrs. J. D. Gordon on Wednesday afternoon in Colwood Hall before members of the Colwood Women's Institute, Langford Women's Institute and Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute. She spoke of the Hoodless Day Commemoration Day. The foundation stone of the women's movement, she said, was health work and through the influence of many institutes, school and district nurses were appointed throughout the country. At some length Mrs. Gordon outlined the wider scope and various branches of institute work.

Mrs. Gordon urged teaching in the schools of home economics.

Miss Kelly, president of the Colwood Women's Institute, thanked the speaker.

Mrs. W. Peden, president of the Victoria Women's Institute, conveyed greetings from her institute. Mrs. H. Bell, president of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute, and Mrs. J. E. McDonald, secretary, Langford Women's Institute, expressed appreciation of the hospitality extended.

Mrs. R. B. Murray and her daughter, Misses Jean and Adria Murray, who have each year since the inception of the Hoodless Commemoration Day by the Colwood Women's Institute, been responsible for the artistic table decorations, had again decorated the tables, which featured pink roses.

The service was served.

At the short business meeting which preceded the open meeting correspondence was read by the secretary, Mrs. Hughes, and included an invitation to the Colwood members to attend the unveiling of the institute table at the Queen Alexandra Solarium and the report of the directors' meeting of the Island District Board, the latter asking for co-operation in submitting articles made from B.C. wool and at the fall conference. It was decided to co-operate with the Island Board in this regard.

A resolution forwarded by the Provincial Board of Health regarding the appointment of Miss Charlotte Whitten to the Child Welfare Department at Ottawa.

GARDEN CITY

The Women's Auxiliary of Garden City United Church held their monthly meeting on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Reid, Balfour Avenue. Mrs. Fryatt presiding. Fourteen members and four visitors were present.

A satisfactory report of the Valentine social was given by the secretary, Mrs. Armstrong.

Arrangements were made for a St. Patrick's supper to be held on Saturday, March 17, with Mrs. Rayner as convenor.

Tea was served by the hostess and a social hour enjoyed.

NOTES OF LEGISLATURE

G. G. McGeer, K.C., the stormy Liberal member for Vancouver-Burrard, is definitely lined up as an Independent member in the House. He has taken his seat next to the Independents on the left side.

The two Non-partisans, H. W. Bruhn, Salmon, and Clive Planta, of the same political color, it has been said, are not to be regarded as a distinct classification.

There are six different political groups in the House outside of the Liberal and C.C.F. parties.

The bill recreating the riding of Colwood was introduced and read the first time in the House yesterday.

The petition of the Fraser River Bridge Company was received in the Legislature yesterday and the bill is now ready to be considered by the private bills committee.

Byron Johnson launched the Victoria city's private bill on its first stages yesterday.

S. S. McKen moved the petition received on the bill amending the Vancouver Incorporation Act which gives the city the right to tax waterfront leases.

Vancouver has made hard but unsuccessful battles for this right on previous occasions.

The first questions have made their appearance on the order papers.

H. C. E. Anderson, the C.C.F. member for North Vancouver, asks the Minister of Education if the school at Kwantlen is closed to pupils at present? If so, why? Is it the intention of the Department of Education to open the school? If so, when?

The private bills committee has been called to meet next Wednesday morning.

The municipal committee, which is usually one of the hardest worked committees of the Legislature, has been called to meet Tuesday morning.

FILM CENSOR FEE OPENED

Bill in House Would Empower Government to Fix Amount

An amendment to the Moving Pictures Act, which opens an avenue of government revenue, was introduced yesterday by Attorney-General Sloan.

The bill changes the present act in respect to the fees imposed in cases of appeal against the census board.

Where these fees are now stipulated at a fixed figure of $15, to be divided among the three members of the appeal board, the bill proposes the amount be not specified and the power to set the fee be vested in the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

Under this legislation it would be possible for the government to set a fee and take the surplus revenue.

Young People's Church Societies

ST. JOHN'S

The regular weekly meeting of St. John's A.Y.P.A. was held Monday evening in the guild room of St. John's Church, when Canon F. A. Chadwick gave an address on the beginning of the A.Y.P.A. and the progress made through the years. Canon Chadwick congratulated the members on the splendid spirit of fellowship in the branch and for the fine work done.

Prior to the address, a business meeting was held when Mrs. Hooper read an excellent report of the provincial conference held recently in Vancouver.

A letter was received from H. Soward, the Dominion president, congratulating St. John's on its successful undertaking.

F. Erickson stated that plans were being made for the summer tennis club.

It was announced that Christ Church, Colwood, had accepted St. John's challenge to a debate, to take place on April 30, in St. John's Hall. The subject for debate has not yet been decided on.

On the report of the Vancouver held recently by the organizations of St. John's Church, J. Hooper stated that the entertainment had been a great success.

Members are reminded of the young people's rally to be held on Monday next Monday the meeting will take the form of a missionary evening, with Miss Ann Sharpe in charge. P. W. Weaver will give an address on "Indian Life in B.C."

In closing the meeting, J. Hooper stated that as a number of the executive were in charge. The "rits" who contributed to the programme were as follows: May McCall, Wilton Stott and Bob Osellon, vocal solo; two readings by Kathleen Oakley and Caesar Pinnimore; guitar and vocal duet by Mildred McDowell and Eric Driver; impersonations by Cecil Chaffield, recitations by Andy Swallow, impromptu play by V.P.S. members and a story "I Wonder" by Bill Lewis and Ruth Heston.

Contributed to the evening's programme with a number of guessing games.

The next Y.P.S. meeting will be held next Tuesday and will be under the devotional convenor. All young people are cordially invited to attend.

First Member For New Constituency Presents Case to B.C. Legislature; Stabilization and Government Guidance For Settlers Urged By Clive Planta

Speaking as the first representative in the B.C. Legislature for the newly created constituency of Peace River, Clive Planta, elected as a non-partisan candidate, made an earnest, forceful plea for stabilization of the B.C. section of the Peace River in the course of his address in the Legislature yesterday.

Diagram maps were provided for all members of the Legislature by the Peace River member so they could better follow his remarks, in which he pointed out there were 61,666 square miles in the electoral district and the B.C. area was but a small part of the whole Peace River district.

Many writers had presented only the glided side of the Peace River, he said in presenting a frank picture in which he told of the possibilities, but did not refrain from discussing the hardships and handicaps to a great extent due to isolation. The need for government guidance and help was stressed by the member.

FIRST OBJECTIVE

"Our first objective should be the stabilization of the British Columbia section of the Peace River district as a progressive, industrious area, with no lessening anticipation of any early exodus compared with the section on the coast," he said, later, however, declaring himself "unalterably opposed" to an outlet by what is known as the "Old route," proposed in reports of government engineers.

He said with bursts of enthusiasm he had been from time to time "glided the 60% when writing of the Peace River district, and had gloried in the advantages without giving a truthful disclosure of the disadvantages."

While government figures placed the amount of arable land at 1,162,980 acres, which in itself was only a small area compared with the section on the coast in Alberta, old settlers estimated the total at 750,000 acres, he maintained.

"YOMANKY OF LAND"

He appealed for the development of a "yomanky of the land" in B.C. agricultural areas. If those in agricultural districts who had been lured into specialized production, could, with government guidance, be readjusted into farming practices through which they would become self-supporting, and for purposes of the government, the channels of distribution so that a fair return to the farmer could be obtained for surplus produce would cease to be a so-called unemployment problem in farming districts.

He said "out of the form of goods and services only a sedative. To implement schemes of public works through which to provide work for the unemployed, the real obligation of the government was to implement measures through which the farmer would be able to establish a proud, independent, self-sustained home."

He outlined how the B.C. Peace River area had had three periods of exodus since 1910, leaving a population of about 12,000, compared with the total of 60,000 in the whole block.

RAILWAY PROBLEM

Turning again to the railway problem, he said the Alberta section would gain much more from an outlet to the coast than would the B.C. section. He quoted a Peace River newspaper item showing that the district had relatively domestic markets of the area, and in the meantime a comfortable livelihood for the people of the area, were left un-

Mr. Planta dealt also with schools and health, land settlement and public works generally. A system of trunk roads in the Peace River area, he said, was needed.

Many recent settlers in the area, located on land, sight-unseen, and discovered that it was incapable of being brought into production excepting through years of struggle, he said. Having come from the prairies they were attracted to forested lands which provided abundant fuel supply and which was surveyed as good land. The "hit and miss" methods of settlement permitted by late governments had resulted in the hapless location and poorly-directed establishment of the newcomers in the province. The government had inherited a moral obligation to deal fairly with them.

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDWOMEN TO COLLECT TAX

London, Feb. 23.—In future women will play a part, and by no means an unimportant one, in the collection of income tax.

This innovation is part of the re-organization of the collection service at Somerset House. Collection was the last branch of the income-tax organization to which women were admitted.

Now scarcely a week passes without the announcement of at least one woman to the select band of the collectors, or assistant-collectors.

A whole batch of women "writing assistants"—to use a civil service term—have just been chosen to undertake at doing the work of assistant collectors.

Typists and shorthand-typists are among the number. It is the first time that typists have ever received such a chance of promotion.

Fine Programme of Specialty Acts interspersed with Dancing at Empress

Novelty entertainment, unique in character and presentation, was offered in the Crystal ballroom of the Empress Hotel yesterday evening when a programme of specialty numbers was interspersed with dancing for the enjoyment of visiting golfers and guests.

Lounge and chairs were grouped about the carpeted space at the western end of the ballroom while the centre of the floor was reserved for dancing and presentation of the acts.

The featured artist was Miss Gertrude Sprague, dancer of Vancouver, pupil of Angela Guerrero of Barcelona, whose specialty is interpretation of the dances of Spain and the Latin countries. Miss Sprague was the first presentation in this city of the "Apache Tango," her second number being a "Spanish Oriental." She danced the first number with a Parisian under-world air in black velvet edged with red satin, and was bewitching in mauve and sequins in the second number, effectively using tiny tinkling bells on her fingers as an accompaniment to the orchestral score.

Miss Sprague will again appear at the concluding golf cabaret to-morrow night, when she will present the Spanish "Allegria," and the famous Cuban "Rumba."

CONTINUOUS ENTERTAINMENT

The entertainment last night was continuous and dancing was continued until a late hour to music by Billy Tickle's orchestra. As each specialty act terminated the orchestra played a popular fox trot or waltz and the guests took possession of the floor. With the concluding bars of the dance and the seating of the dancers the next specialty number occupied the attention of the audience.

Many local artists appeared on the diversified programme. Miss Berna Waring, wearing an abbreviated black costume and a gigantic hat, appeared in a novelty jazz dance. The Stratford Pieter-Watt trio expertly performed their famous Adagio.

Miss Thelma Stratford, in a gay red uniform with plumed helmet, won approval with her new military toe tap dance. With Kathleen Mann she appeared in a tap dance novelty.

The "Sunshine Girls," the Misses Thelma Ackerman, "Doudie" McAlpine, Patricia Pennock and Mary Gootenka, in a novelty presentation concluded the special acts.

Earlier in the evening a dinner dance was held in the main dining-room, dancing space being reserved for the eastern end with the hotel orchestra in attendance.

To-day's entertainment programme includes a dinner dance from 6.30 to 8 o'clock, followed by a concert in the Crystal Garden which will be visited by the golfers for swimming and dancing.

ALEXANDRA ROSE

DAY ON JUNE 30

Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E.

Makes Arrangements For Several Events

Arrangements were made yesterday afternoon at the monthly meeting of the Municipal Chapter I.O.D.E., with the regent, Mrs. L. A. Genge presiding, for several events. Saturday, June 30, has been chosen as Alexandra Rose Day. The annual meeting of the chapter will be held in the New Thought Hall on March 22, when the Robert Burns Memorial Chapter will be in charge of the tea. An executive meeting will be held on Monday, March 19, at 10.30 o'clock in headquarters.

For the annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter I.O.D.E., which will be held in Victoria at the Empress Hotel on April 18 and 19, tentative plans were made at the Municipal Chapter meeting. The names of the students would be able to continue their education through the correspondence course. The names of these students were obtained from Dr. S. J. Willis, deputy Minister of Education, and Mr. J. W. Gibson, officer in charge of high school correspondence courses, who received letters from such persons interested in taking the courses but unable to provide the necessary school fees.

This fund is doing excellent work throughout the province in helping these young students, stated Miss Cooke, a student attending school last year passed examinations with 85 per cent, the first six grades being passed through the correspondence course. Miss Cooke said that if each chapter would donate $5 each year, or $2.50 each term, they would have sufficient money to supply text books as well as I.O.D.E. reading books to those who receive little or no reading in isolated parts. No student applying for text books has ever been refused.

During the nomination of officers Mrs. G. P. Clarke acted as convener, with Mrs. T. A. Johnston, Mrs. J. Cameron and Mrs. L. A. Lucas as scrutineers.

Mrs. C. W. Plumb, who has been appointed convener of the chapter for unemployed camps, appealed to the members for magazines. Those having magazines are asked to get in touch with the convener, Mrs. Plumb, also reported for soldiers' graves and announced that wreaths had been placed on the Cross of Sacrifice and at the Jewish Cemetery.

Reports were given by the welfare convener, Mrs. George Miles; the Boy Scouts, Mrs. A. H. C. Phillips; Local Council of Women, Mrs. A. E. Hopkins, and the Navy League, Mrs. Genge.

CELEBRATE AN

ANNIVERSARY

Fairfield W.M.S. Marks Event

With Due Ceremony

To celebrate the twentieth anniversary of the formation of the Fairfield United Women's Missionary Society, a large gathering of members of various women's missionary societies of the United Church met yesterday afternoon in the schoolroom of the Fairfield United Church. Plum blossom and daffodil and maidenhair fern made an effective decoration on the tea table and about the room, Mrs. E. Woodward having arranged the flowers.

The president, Mrs. C. A. Fields, who was in the chair, led the devotion, and later welcomed the guests. She read letters from former officers, Misses Andrews, Dorsey, Shaw and Sea. Mrs. Green read a history of the society from the time of its formation. Seven of the charter members were on the platform. Mrs. J. Johnson was the district organizer twenty years ago, followed by Mrs. Glas and Mrs. Dyson.

Freda Green and Shirley Coles presented the charter members with charming corsage bouquets, those being: Mrs. G. A. Dyson, Mrs. Green, Mrs. H. J. Knott, Mrs. G. Johnson, Miss A. Ede and Miss M. Harter. After a solo by Mrs. E. Woodward, "I Shall Not Pass This Way Again," Mrs. W. G. Wilson, the provincial president, and Mrs. H. J. Armitage brought greetings. An appropriate recitation was given by Brenda Woodard. A collection was taken and Rev. Dr. A. Henry thanked the members for their splendid work, bringing the meeting to a close with prayer.

Mrs. H. J. Knott and Mrs. Green presided at the table during the tea hour. A three-tiered cake, adorned with twenty candles, which had been made by Mrs. G. A. Dyson, assisted by Mrs. G. Green and Mrs. Mariner, occurred the place of honor and was cut with due ceremony.

Ladies' Aid, Esquimalt United.—The Ladies' Aid of Esquimalt United Church held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Wallace, Grenville Avenue, on Monday evening. The society is trying to raise funds toward having the church painted. The treasurer reported a substantial surplus, which was cordially invited, will be held on Thursday afternoon, March 15, at the home of Mrs. Purdy, 706 Lamson Street. In aid of this fund. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Douglas, 928 Old Esquimalt Road, on Monday, March 19, at 7.30 o'clock.

and attended Washington State College. The wedding will take place in the early summer.

In honor of the occasion of the fourteenth birthday anniversary of her daughter, Shirley, Mrs. H. Kramer entertained ten young guests at an enjoyable party recently. The evening was spent with games and music. Prizes were won by the Misses Winnie Graham, Doreen Muggsy, Margaret Jones and Elaine Kramer. The supper table was attractively decorated with a Valentine motif, with graceful red tapers and centred with a beautiful Valentine birthday cake. Music furnished by Iris Noel, Margaret Jones and Violet Paterson, was enjoyed by the guests. Those present were: Jean Marshall, Patricia Crawford, Winifred Jones, Iris Noel, Margaret Jones, Violet Paterson, Doreen Muggsy, Ada Carter, Reta Gold, Elaine Kramer, Shirley Kramer and Mrs. H. Kramer.

ON THE BEACH AT WAIKIKI

While icy blasts nip less fortunate lands, Hawaii basks in golden sunshine and happy tourists loiter on the beach at Waikiki, famed resort in Honolulu harbor. The latest modes in aquatic garb are displayed here, with the motto seeming to be, "The less bathing suit, the better."IDEAL SIZE
FEMALE FOOTEnglish Women Buy More Shoes Than Women of Other CountriesLondon, Feb. 23.—The perfect woman's foot should be: Size four or four and a half, not too narrow, with out protruding joints, well-arched, with a high instep, and with short and well-shaped toes.That is the unanimous verdict of a number of experts at the International Shoe and Leather Fair now in progress at the Royal Agricultural Hall, Islington.
One exhibitor declared that the majority of women's feet fall short of the ideal by being too large although they may be quite well-shaped. He said that the average woman took size five or five and a half which meant that her feet were just a fraction too large to be perfect.Among the interesting information to be gleaned at the fair is the fact that English women buy more pairs of shoes per year than the women of any other country, the average being six pairs per year.The modern woman, it is stated, prefers to be guided by comfort rather than fashion when choosing her shoes.
Successful Tea.—The ladies of St.
Martins held an enjoyable daffodil tea in the Parish Hall Wednesday afternoon. The tables looked very attractive with a vase of daffodils on each. There was a Jack Horner pie and also Mrs. T.
Thompson kindly donated a cushion which was won by Mrs. Black. Sanction During tea, a short musical programme was provided by Mr. Pittcroft and

MARY'S KITCHEN

TECHNIQUE OF COOKING FOWL

By Sister Mary
This time of year is a sort of "between" season in poultry. Not that springers are not available, but they are high in price and not plentiful, so the home-maker who wants to serve chicken to her family must depend on what the poultry man calls "fowl."If these older chickens are prepared with proper care, delicious well-flavored dishes are forthcoming. Long-slow cooking is imperative if the meat is to be tender and moist, consequently any method such as stewing, braising or casseroling can be used.The prolonged cooking usually required to make the flesh tender is apt to develop a strong flavor. To prevent this, let the fowl stand in cold salted water for one hour before cooking.
Be sure to maintain a low temperature throughout the entire cooking.
Begin to cook the fowl at a low temperature and keep the heat moderate.
Too often old poultry is hard and dry even after several hours cooking because it was started to cook at too high a temperature. Whether it is to be roasted or stewed the advantages of a low temperature must be remembered.BROWNING IMPROVES TASTE Quick surface browning improves the looks and taste of casserole dishes and does not affect the tenderness of the meat because the heat fails to penetrate.Chicken stew is an economical dish and generally popular. The liquor in which the chicken is cooked always is rich and flavorful and makes a delicious gravy. Plain stewed chicken with gravy and baking powder biscuits is very easy to prepare and makes an appetizing and satisfactory meal served with mashed potatoes, buttered onions, a green salad and fruit dessert. Dumplings and noodles also are favorite accompaniments for chicken stews. Rice is good with chicken, too, served in place of potatoes.Chicken can be combined with vegetables to make a savory stew. Canned corn, canned or cooked sliced lima beans, tomatoes, peas, onions and mushrooms are suitable vegetables.
The acid of tomatoes helps to soften the fibre of the meat and makes it tender.Remember, too, that age-old expedient of our grandmothers when the meat was tough and hard, and add one or two tablespoons vinegar to the water in which the chicken is cooked.
Neither the meat nor the gravy will taste of the vinegar but the chicken will be made tender.
Savory chicken stews are unusual and delicious. If cooked in a casserole in the oven it can go straight from the oven to the table without any last minute fussing. Cooked on top of the stove, the stew is served on a hot, deep platter.SAVORY CHICKEN STEW
One good sized fowl weighing about four pounds, 2 slices bacon, 2 cups canned tomatoes, 1 cup canned corn, 1 cup canned lima beans, 1 cup stoned and minced ripe olives, 1 cup water, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 whole cloves, 4 peppercorns.Disjoint fowl and cut larger pieces in two. Cut bacon in small pieces and try out fat in kettle. Add pieces of fowl and brown quickly. Tie cloves and peppercorns in a small piece of cheesecloth and crush slightly. Add with tomatoes, water, vinegar, salt, pepper and sugar to chicken in Kettle.
Cover closely and simmer over a low fire for three hours. Add vegetables and mushrooms half an hour before serving. Remove bag of spices and serve on a hot platter.

TAKE UP SPORTSBear Mountain, N.Y., Feb. 22.— Eighty-seven women, all of whom have been out of work for months, and some for as long as three years, are reneving health and courage for the inevitable return to job-hunting by a go at winter sports on the frozen surface of Lake Tiorati here.The women are guests of Camp Tera, established last summer in Harriman
State Park at the suggestion of Mrs.
Franklin D. Roosevelt, as a place where
New York City's weary women jobseekers, after being investigated and recommended by reliable welfare agencies, might go for rest and rebuilding.The experiment of keeping the camp open in winter was undertaken with misgivings which might have developed into real alarm could the sport-ers have looked ahead and seen the thermometer sliding to twenty below and lingering there for a cold snap that was record-breaking even in these wind-swept regions.

KING WINTER DIED

For after all, the veranda and many-windowed log shacks loaned by the New York Life Insurance Company were originally intended for summer occupancy. However, with an oil heater installed in the biggest building, two snug dormitories equipped, the verandas glass-enclosed and wood enough piled in the chimney corner of the social room for roaring fires whenever they are needed, the campers can now defy polar weather.It would do your heart good to see what a lot of shouting and giggling go on at Tera. Far from being a dismal place to visit as you might expect, it is gorgeously gay as if these women, buttered so long by misfortune, had forgotten the momentary tragedy of the past as well as the possibility of heartbreak ahead and were living completely in an enchanted present, with its almost-forgotten luxuries of daily baths, three hearty, nourishing meals and clean beds at night, not to speak of fun.

A SPIRIT OF OPTIMISM

"Though, of course, after lights are out at night, we get to thinking and then often you hear somebody crying," a girl in corduroy riding breeches admitted, then added hastily: "But we know things are getting better. Everybody says so."Under the direction of Miss Jewel
I. Mills, camp manager, the winter Tera-ites, whose ages run from nineteen to something over forty, are trying a plan for governing themselves. Every Sunday evening the entire group meets to discuss the week's happenings, to decree punishments for those who have been inconsiderate of the rights of others and to offer suggestions for any changes they would like made in the routine.

SELF-GOVERNMENT

"Self-government works like a charm here," declared Miss Mills, who has had years of experience in understanding women, young and old. "The girls are actually stricter with one another than I am with them. They are so proud of our atmosphere of orderly peace that they refuse to tolerate violations of the rules they have so carefully shaped."
Besides self-government, the chief change that time has brought to Camp Tera is a lessening of compulsion in the programme of instruction. Most of the girls are so tired when they first come that Miss Mills has found it best to let them take on classes only as they feel like it. They all do their part of the simple camp chores—sweeping the pine floors, dusting, washing dishes and waiting on table—but the classes in sewing, crafts, posture, current events and dancing are optional. All the same, every camper has of her own volition chosen at least two avocations at which she is working hard.

POETS, ARTISTS EMERGE

Sometimes unexpected talent is uncovered. One woman who never before held a paint brush in her hands has made charming little studies of her fellow campers and of the wild life around the lake. A whole crop of poets singing of everything from starlight to will-power has come shyly forward
since the initial issue of Tera Topics, typewritten camp paper, and the class in crafts is now able to carve most intricate designs on ends of cast-off orange crates or smooth bits of bark.The Topics column, by the way, to which every subscriber turns first, is the one devoted to news of alumnae activity in the world. "Mary B. has a fine permanent position now" is the kind of glad tidings that carries to the anxious more reassurance than anybody's optimistic say-so that things are getting better."For everybody knows that Mary B. finished a full two years and a half for work before she got a new grip on herself at the hope-inspiring, spirit-renewing settlement on Lake Tiorati.Send Your

HOW IS YOUR LIVER?Wake up your Liver Bile
—Without Calomel
Your liver is a very small organ, but it certainly can put your digestive and eliminative organs out of kilter, by refusing to pour out its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels.
You won't completely correct such a condition
by taking salts, oil, mineral water, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughage. When they've moved your bowels they're through—and you need a liver stimulant.

AUSTRIAN JEWS DECLARED SAFE

Chancellor Dollfuss Says Government Not Planning Measures Against Them

Associated Press
Vienna, Feb. 23.—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss yesterday said the Jews in Austria need fear no change in the government policy toward them. "Our policy toward the Jews remains unaltered," the Chancellor told a group of British and United States newspapermen.

Dr. Dollfuss showed surprise when he was told of rumors circulated that Vienna's Socialists, harrassed by Nazi attacks during the civil war, were dead. He promised to take up the question of permitting foreign correspondents to see for themselves that the Jews were still alive.

Dr. Dollfuss said that bridge would be crossed when it was encountered, but if terrorism was resumed, "we will at least know who is responsible for it."

At the same time he expressed hope for a peaceful solution of the situation. Dr. Dollfuss said the question of the restoration of the monarchy had not been discussed by the cabinet.

Another member of the Socialist Republican Guard, meanwhile, was hanged yesterday evening for participating in the uprising last week. The execution was the ninth since the outbreak of the sanguinary warfare more than a week ago.

WANTS NO TERRORISM
Dr. Dollfuss was asked the Austrian government's attitude on the "ultra-matium" delivered by Theodore Habicht, exiled Austrian Nazi, from Munich two days ago threatening aggressive tactics by Nazis if they were not admitted into the government by February 28.

WILL EXTEND WOMEN'S WARD
Duncan, Feb. 23.—Decision was reached at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the King's Daughters' Hospital to proceed with the extension of the women's ward which the women's auxiliary is providing for.

Tenders will be called immediately and the work put in hand as soon as arrangements can be made for the care of the patients.

How to Be Happy Though Married

The Reformation Complex Wrecks More Marriages Than All the Seven Deadly Sins Put Together, Says Dorothy Dix—Yet Years of Nagging Have Never Changed a Single Wife or Husband

WHY DON'T some of the thinkers, who are always changing the marriage ceremony, add a little rider on it that will make the bridegroom and bride swear to take this woman or this man "as is," as the shipping manifests say? Nothing else would do so much to promote domestic felicity and make marriage a success as it would for a husband and wife just to accept each other as they are, with all their faults and little peculiarities thick upon them, and let it go at that, without either trying to make the other over according to his or her taste.

For the thing that wrecks more marriages than drink or infidelity or all of the seven deadly sins is the reformation complex that we all have and that gets a free play in domesticity that it does not find elsewhere. We may not approve of the kind of hats and dresses and neckties our friends and acquaintances wear, nor of the way they sit and stand and eat their soup, but we do not feel free to supervise their clothes nor manners. But those we marry are delivered into our hands and it is the moaning and the groaning of these poor creatures who are being reconditioned according to the ideas of their new husbands and wives that fills the world with the lamentations of those who are "disappointed" in marriage.

Probably 90 per cent of the family spats and most of the failures of marriages are the direct result of husbands and wives trying to cut each other over according to their own little paper pattern. It can't be done, of course. By the time people are old enough to marry, their opinions, their ways and their tastes are set in solid concrete and cannot be altered. But husbands and wives keep pecking on the impossible job.

One of the inexplicable mysteries of the human heart is why men and women do not pick out the kind of wives and husbands they want in the first place, instead of selecting something they don't want and don't approve of and taking a chance on being able to make it over into their heart's desire after they get it home.

No man would buy a truck and expect to put a few gadgets on it and turn it into a nifty sport car. No woman would buy a tulle ball gown under the delusion that she could cut off the train and build up the back and make it into a bungalow apron. But a man will marry a plain domestic girl and expect to change her into a brilliant society butterfly, and a woman will marry a playboy and expect to turn him into a sober old dray horse that will enjoy straining on the collar to pull the family load.

Every day we see clever and highly educated men marrying pretty little moths who haven't two ideas under their finger waves and who never read a book in their lives. We see poor and ambitious men marrying girls whose only aspiration is always to have the latest thing from Paris. We see tight-fisted men marrying girls who are wasters and spenders.

And we see stay-at-home girls marrying rascals; ambitious girls marrying lazy loafers, girls who only come to life at night clubs marrying domestic men.

We wonder why they do it. It is not because they are deceived, for we all wear our faults written upon our foreheads where he or she who runs may read; and few men and women are ever so much in love as to be blind to the characteristics of those whom they are proposing to wed.

So the explanation must be that they believe that they can reform Marybelle or Percy. The clever man is going to cultivate a taste for reading in his little nitwit wife. The tightwad is going to teach his peedgal spouse how to handle money wisely. And a million girls have thought that they were an antidote for drink, and another million have broken their hearts and their backs trying to lift husbands out of the gutter up to the higher life.

Now the pathetic part of all of this effort of husbands and wives to change each other is that it does no good. It never works. It is just lost motion. Wasteful effort. Its only result is to cause endless friction. Think of the homes you know in which the husband and wife have fought together over a pipe. Yet the man goes on smoking. Think of the homes in which there is always a scene every time the husband is ten minutes late for dinner. Yet his wife has never been able to force him to punch the time-clock on the dot.

Think of the husbands who raise a row every time their wives buy a new dress. Yet they have never been able to reduce the bills at the dress shops. Think of the millions of breakfast table spats over the coffee and burnt toast and soggy eggs, without a single wife ever improving her technique with the gas range.

And so, no husband or wife being miracle-worker enough to change his or her wife or husband, the only remedy is for those who marry to take their life partners as they are and make the best of it. Let them enlarge upon their spouses' virtues and minimize their faults.

Let a man reflect that a wife can be a poor housekeeper, yet a mighty good pale, and that, after all, there is a restaurant on every corner, but few women who are amiable and pleasant and interesting and amusing to live with. Let a woman realize that a man can forget to wipe his feet on the doormat and hang up the towel and still remember his marriage vows, and that a husband who works his fingers to the bone to keep her soft and comfortable is entitled to a few flimsy ways without being nagged about them.

The moral of all of which is: Take 'em or leave 'em in courtship, but once you are married take 'em as they are, and like 'em.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel!"
SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 1934

According to astrology, the week ends with a lucky day. The stars smile on those who buy and sell. Advertisements should be especially potent in stimulating trade this way.

The planetary government encourages good investment in stock investments and speculation should be avoided even though the temptation may be strong.

Women should benefit since intuition should be strong. Guidance in love affairs and in domestic and physical claims is to be cultivated.

The evening of this day is favorable to the men of the forceful, assertive type. The stars encourage ambitious plans and daring projects. Science is to lead to tremendous achievements.

That is to be particularly fortunate for engineers, architects and builders it is forecast. The machine age is to pass into the age of broadest scientific attainments in which manufacturers will supply the work of many hands.

Persons whose birthday it is have the luxury of a day of hard work that brings fair returns. Women should concentrate on the home.

Children born on this day probably will be of an independent nature, courageous and adventurous. Their parents may be successful leaders.

Among those who have celebrated it as a birthday are William Crawford, 1972, Virginia statesman; George, William Curtis, 1824, writer and editor.

CAREER COME FIRST
Los Angeles, Feb. 23 (Associated Press).—Charles J. Foy, son of the late vaudeville star, Eddie Foy, was awarded a divorce to-day from Grace Hayes Foy, singer and actress. Foy testified the actress placed her career above her matrimonial life, and that they had some trouble over money.

Simple Rules to Avoid Headaches - Indigestion - Heaviness

It isn't necessary to go on suffering periodic headaches, attacks of indigestion and days of half-sick, half-well heaviness. These ailments should not occur when your system is properly regulated. And all you need to do to regulate your system perfectly is to pursue sensible habits of living, eating and sleeping—and take an occasional sparkling, refreshing glass of Andrews Liver Salt.

Why should you take Andrews? For a very good reason. You should, of course, cultivate moderate eating habits; get plenty of sleep, fresh air, exercise and enjoyable recreation. But these excellent rules can't overcome incomplete elimination of body wastes.

It is a fact that thousands of people suffer from the effects of incomplete elimination without knowing it, because regularity of habit is so assurance that the system is functioning fully. That's why, in addition to living sensibly, you should take Andrews occasionally—say once or twice a week.

Do this, and you will soon find life much more worth living. You'll escape headaches, indigestion, and that feeling of weariness. You'll know what it is to be completely healthy—to enjoy a robust appetite—to have energy to spare. And you'll enjoy Andrews sparkling refreshment. All druggists sell Andrews Liver Salt—in tins at 35c and 60c—in the new, large bottle at 75c. Sole Agents: John A. Huston Co., Ltd., Toronto.

PHEASANT SEASON ENDS IN ENGLAND

Sportsmen There Ignoring "Cocks-Only" Rule and Shoot Hens

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
 London, Feb. 23.—The pheasant season has ended. Thanks largely to last year's fine weather, it has been one of the best pheasant-shooting seasons
 since the war.

The last week saw a great rush to the north for last-minute "shoots" by people anxious to make the most of a good thing.

"Cocks only" was the order passed around, although the rule against shooting hen pheasants is not so ruthlessly enforced now as it used to be.

About a century ago such an offence in many places was punishable with a fine of ten shillings.

It was then that one dashing Guardsman, after coolly "downing" ten birds in succession, handed his outraged host a ten-pound note, remarking that he "would have another river's worth at the next beat."

London Parson Turns Lawyer

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
 London, Feb. 23.—After devoting twenty-eight years to the church, the Rev. John H. Newsham-Taylor has started life afresh this week as a barrister.

He was called to the Bar of the Inner Temple on Friday, and has just undertaken his first case.

"Actually, I was intended for the law as a boy," Mr. Newsham-Taylor told me, "so after a lifetime of work in the religious world I am only returning to my early love."

"I preached my last sermon a year ago at St. Mark's, in St. John's Wood."

Four members of the marauding, cattle-rustling Border Legion as they appear in Zane Grey's "The Last Round-up," which comes to the Capitol Theatre to-morrow.

Since then I have been working in a solicitor's office.

"I believe my experience as a clergyman should be of value in my new job. At least I know humanity, and I intend helping the poor as much as possible."

"While I am fifty years old, I cannot think that this will prove a hindrance.
 Indian civil servants, for instance,
 often adopt the bar as a new profession
 when they retire."

Mr. Newsham-Taylor is giving up a living worth £1,000—and "I don't expect to make that at the bar," he says.

Famous Ballet Here Monday

When the famous Pavley-Oukrainsky Ballet appears at the Empire Theatre on February 26 for a single performance, lovers of dancing will have an opportunity to see what the critics of New York and Chicago have called the "most brilliant dancing organization ever assembled."

FREDIC MARCH HERE TO-MORROW

Frederic March, Miriam Hopkins, George Raft and Helen Mack head the cast of Paramount's "All of Me," coming to the Capitol Theatre to-morrow. The picture, directed by James Flood, is the screen adaptation of Rose Althea Porter's stage play, "Chrysalis."

English Add Shows To Brighton Dining

Reuter's Special to The Victoria Times
 London, Feb. 23.—"Brighter London" is attracting more and more foreign tourists to England. No one who revisits the West End after an absence of a few years can fail to appreciate the change for the gay which has come over our night life.

Several directors of big hotels this week said that the introduction of supper-time entertainments in their restaurants has had a very beneficial effect on business.

These entertainments are becoming more and more ambitious. People are no longer satisfied with isolated cabaret turns, and in many places these have had to give way to floor shows on a big scale after the American manner.

Cowboys Held Over For Saturday Show

Stage Show and New Picture
 "Summer Lightning" at Empire For Saturday

Ken Hackley and His Oklahoma Cowboys are proving to be one of the most outstanding stage organizations that have appeared here for some time.

Their individuality makes the programme one of interest throughout.
 By popular demand the management to-day decided to hold over this stage attraction for Saturday only.

Her two years' work as a mannequin have proved invaluable to Dorothy Bennet in her meteoric film career, and it will be seen to what advantage she can wear beautiful clothes when "Summer Lightning" comes to the Empire Theatre to-morrow.

Dorothy was the star performer of a children's concert party when she was only six years old, and the ambition to make acting her profession was always before her.

When she left school the opportunity did not seem to present itself, but she got a step nearer her goal when she left a city office to become a mannequin at Harrod's London store.

COLUMBIA THEATRE
 The roaring, stampeding dangerous herd of buffaloes that flashes across the screen of the Columbia Theatre to-day with Paramount's "The Thundering Herd" represents approximately half of the total number of those rare animals in existence on the continent.

In 1870 the buffalo total was more than 3,000,000, made up of herds that roamed all over the western plains, but to-day a recent roundup made by the Paramount company revealed, only about 4,000 of the animals are alive.

PLAYHOUSE THEATRE
 Marian Nixon, whose work in "Pilgrimage" has won acclaim from critics, has an important role in "Doctor Bull," the new Fox film starring Will Rogers. Miss Nixon has the part of "May Tuppington" and his numerous big scenes with Rogers.

"Doctor Bull," which was adapted from "The Last Adam," the successful novel by James Gould Cozzens, is now at the Playhouse Theatre and is said to present Rogers in his most fitting role that of a philosophic village doctor.

Fine Cast To Appear Here

With a star-studded cast, headed by such stellar performers as Janet Gaynor, Lionel Barrymore, Henrietta Cros-man and Robert Young, Fox Film will present its latest release, "Carolina," at the Dominion Theatre to-morrow.
 The film will remain for an engagement of six days. The production is reported as being so magnificent in scope and so dramatic in theme, that it necessitated the use of a cast of seven great stars to do it justice. The array of personalities present in the cast, and the advance reports on the film, give "Carolina" the promise of being one of the outstanding productions of the year.

Janet Gaynor and Robert Young have the romantic leads. Besides Lionel Barrymore and Henrietta Crosman, the cast boasts such names as Richard

This morning Taylor defeated S. C. Terrie, 7 and 6, and Randall won his match from A. B. Crump, 3 and 2. Painter, who won the medal honors in the eighteenth hole, usually last Monday, continued to display steady golf to defeat Forde. The youngster had the advantage of two strokes in handicaps and put them both to good use, using one to win a hole and the other to gain a half. Painter reached the ninth hole with a lead of 2 up. A thirty-foot putt gave him the twelfth hole and from that point he had the match always in his hands.

VOICE VIEWS AGAINST WAR

Speakers Look to Brotherhood to Avoid Future Conflicts; Too Many Scars

"At the present time the rate-payers of Canada have demanded that before Canada is committed to another war, the matter should go to a referendum since they are the ones who must foot the bills and carry the scars," Captain W. Warren.

"With war clouds gathering on the horizon, the future could be good if a brotherhood of ex-servicemen became a reality," Major K. B. Spurgin.

"None of us want another war. It is too horrible to contemplate," W. M. Hotham.

These are some of the statements made by the three speakers at the meeting of the British Campaigners' branch of the Canadian Legion yesterday evening when they took up the subject of "War and its Scars."

The realization of the futility and terrible cost of war was general to-day. Captain Warren stated in his talk. He said the "Brits" Empire had usually entered a conflict in defence of high principles. Those responsible for the war could not be held responsible for the millions of lives and countless millions were still carrying the scars of war.

"In their secret hearts most men who enlist do so with the hope of a promotion and the power that it will bring them. The very antithesis of the teachings of Christ, which, if they were followed out to the letter, would prevent a repetition of past conflicts."

BELIEF IN DUTY.
While admitting the youth of today would most probably answer a journey he was feeling it was replying to the summons to duty was an event would be a terrible calamity, Major Spurgin stated.

Major Spurgin advocated an international police force, the full force of which would be thrown against any nation which declared war. If the work were plunged into another war, he would rather fight himself than see his sons sacrificed.

Mr. Spurgin stated in his contribution to the programme. He saw hopes for the future in the growing spirit of brotherhood. "It could be made brotherhood, there would be no war, he added.

Colonel Lorne Ross, president of the branch, thanked the speakers for their address.

Interesting facts concerning the life of Cecil Rhodes, Kruger and Livingstone, whom Dr. Rickard referred to as the three great men of South Africa's history, were included in the speaker's address and special reference was made to the great influence of Rhodes, whose life had been devoted to the expansion of South Africa. A description of the character and death of Livingstone formed one of the most interesting parts of Dr. Rickard's talk.

Mrs. W. C. Nichol, the regent, later entertained the group at supper.

THINKS BURDEN SHIFT UNJUST

Hon. A. Wells Gray Voices Views on Load Carried By Municipalities

Little justification is seen by Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands in thrusting of burdens upon municipalities, according to his view on this matter given in an address before the Real Estate Board of Victoria at its luncheon in Spencer's dining-room to-day.

The minister referred also to the importance to Victoria of the tourist trade, stating the city's future depended to a large extent on its development.

Touching briefly on the proposed municipal department of which he will be the head, Mr. Gray stated it would be in the nature of a service section between the provincial and municipal governments.

Mr. Gray referred to his desire to boost Victoria and help its people in every way possible.

Briefly he spoke of his activities as a lacrosse player, adding a touch of humor to his reminiscences, before dealing with incidents in his municipal and political career.

"I see the problem of your city council and I know Mayor Leeming. I don't think you ever had a more serious or conscientious man in office," he stated. It was the duty of the citizens to assist and encourage the mayor, he thought.

"You have a council that has been working night and day to make both ends meet," he continued.

"You have a very serious problem. It was not right in thrusting all the burden upon you that you have had to assume," he continued.

He believed provincial and municipal governments should adopt, father and son relations.

Victoria's future depended to a large extent on its tourist business. The city had a great responsibility in keeping itself beautiful, he declared.

He expressed his desire to see the beautiful forests on the island protected for posterity.

The proposed municipal department would be more of a service department between governments than a big spending department, he said.

Mr. Gray hoped to see assistance given to prevent recidivism in municipalities.

NEW PROPERTY VALUATION
"We must devise a new system of valuation on property," he said. This might be done on a service basis, he said. That policy were followed people would be less inclined to request services, such as improvements.

The speaker believed reorganization of assessment appeal boards should be carried out along lines which would remove members of the municipal councils from them.

He said the advisability of having work done for relief. Last year Vancouver had spent over $3,000,000 in relief and received "not one shovel-ful of work for it," he said, referring to direct aid to jobs.

Victoria, in its work plan, had followed a wise course, he believed.

EVERYONE WHO HAD THE BEST INTEREST OF THE COUNTRY AT HEART SHOULD SUPPORT THE EXISTING ORDER, HE SAID. IF THE PEOPLE DID NOT, THEY WOULD BE INVITING THE C.C.F. OR COMMUNIST PARTY TO TAKE CONTROL.

Closing, he expressing his appreciation of British nationality, voicing his view that the province could turn with better results to the type of government in British than to that in the United States.

James Forman moved the vote of thanks to the speaker.

MAYOR GOING TO VANCOUVER

To attend a meeting of the advertising group of the Puget Sounders and British Columbian Association in Vancouver to-morrow, Mayor David Leeming, president of that body, will leave Victoria this evening.

INQUIRY INTO POLL SOUGHT

Petition Will Be Presented to Legislature By Esquimalt Voters

A petition to the Legislature, seeking a commission to inquire into the polling in Esquimalt riding during the last provincial election, will be presented shortly, according to J. S. Yates, solicitor, who has preparation of the document in hand.

The petitioners include a number of people who attended a public meeting in Esquimalt shortly after the election.

While the time has expired for application to the courts on the matter, the petitioners are invoking a section of the Elections Act, which allows an appeal to the Legislature.

The petitioners are J. W. Maynard, retiring chairman, for his five years' leadership of the group.

The group also decided to refer to a special committee of Esquimalt reports there is talk in Washington circles of the possibility of the "persistence of Congress" in imposing a five cents per pound tax on coconut and sesame oils may result in the removal of at least a part of the United States soap manufacturing business to Canada.

Fists and Sticks Fly As Montreal Maroons Defeat Canadiens

THE PLAYERS Fight And Managers Get Rough In Bitter Struggle

Veteran Charley Harvey Has Potential in Steve Hamas

Victor over Max Schmeling Should Give Max Baer Tough Time

English Football Clubs In Another Raid On Scottish Material

SINCE THE veteran Charley Harvey hit his wagon to that rising young fighter, Steve Hamas, the shrewd manager again is holding the reins to a potential heavyweight champion. Since his defeat of Max Schmeling, Steve's services are much in demand. Rival promoters are fighting to get his name on the dotted line, but it seems that Jack Dempsey has the inside track, offering Hamas a bout with Max Baer. Harvey, who tottles hither and yon with his cane had a near-champ in Tony Heene, the heavyweight from New Zealand. Harvey brought Heene from far down in the list to convince Gene Tunney, despite the arguments of the late Tex Rickard, that Heene should take on his last heavy-weight title defense. "If you'll recall," Hamas said, "I was paid $25,000 for that fight and Madison Square Garden went into the hole."

Charley Harvey is a wise old man who knows where to put in his ear and when to pull it. The recent bout between Hamas and Schmeling, in Philadelphia, was another instance of his shrewdness. Schmeling would fight King Levinsky, everyone said, until Lena Levy, the King's sister and manager, protested against Manager Joe Jacobs and his Black Uhlan taking from 35 to 40 per cent of the gate. That night Hamas was signed to fight Hamas, figured as a setup. But Steve upset the dope. In one battle he booted himself from about fifteen ranking among the heavyweights at the beginning of the year to fifth place by his decisive defeat of Schmeling. He now rates behind Carners, Baer, Loughran and Levinsky, and many experts would put him in fourth place.

Hamas has come a long way under the man who has brought more English fighters to North American shores than any other manager. Harvey saw him shortly after he had captured all the athletic honors Pennsylvania State University had to offer. He won eleven letters in boxing, football, basketball, track and baseball. He had topped off his career by winning the intercollegiate heavyweight boxing title. Hamas met Harvey. Hamas wanted to turn pro and asked Harvey to handle him. The veteran turned down the offer "because he was not a fighter," Hamas then went on his own hook and came back with a record that made Harvey blink. Right there and then he took the offer. Harvey had started a career fighting a string of twenty consecutive knockouts.

Hamas's victory over Schmeling was doubly creditable because it was the one big fight in his comeback career. Previous to the Schmeling bout, the high spot of his march was his knockout of Tommy Loughran in 1932. After that he lost to Lee Ramage, copped a close decision from Loughran, and then dropped the nod to the Philadelphia dancing master in a third fight. That when the smart fellows began to think he was washed up. But Hamas had an aim for the loss. An old footballer injury popped up to give him a lot of trouble and he had an operation to remedy it.

The twenty-five-year-old Hamas appears to have all it takes to make a champion, with the possible exception of a highly developed destructive instinct. Against Schmeling he showed a left hand second only to Loughran, and from the number of times he has fought Tommy Loughran, it is safe to say that Hamas has picked up his pointers from the Philadelphia fighter. He has the bobbing and weaving tactics of Dempsey, and some of the calculating style of Tunney. He is one of the few college graduates in the ring to-day. A bit more practice with his right hand and you have Hamas ready for his bout with Baer.

Streamlined wooden golf clubs will be universally used by golfers in a couple of years, according to Willie Ogg, the professional of Bobby Jones' home club in Georgia. "It's no joke," he said. "The stream-lined clubs are more convenient on the shaft will be with us in the next two or three years, perhaps. He declared that he had actually tried one. "It moves through the air without a sound," he said. "There is no whistle as the club goes down."

English football league clubs are making a run on Scottish players. In one day four players crossed the border to join new clubs. The best known of these was Alex Stevenson, Glasgow Rangers' international inside right who was transferred to Everton. Preston North End have secured the services of James Dougal, the Falkirk outside right, and Port Vale have signed Charles McMillan, a left back who played for Hearts and St. Johnstone.

Chatterfield, leaders of the northern section, have secured the transfer of Harry Brown from Bradford to Liverpool. Brown was born in Kilmarnock and was with Hibernians for four seasons.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 23.—A new world record for the 100-meter breaststroke had been set to-day by Walter Savelle. The swimmer, in an interclub meet, swam the 100 metres yesterday in 1 minute, 13 2/5 seconds, to break the record of 1 minute, 14 seconds, held by J. Cartwright, France.

Hooley Smith and Leo Dandurand Swap Blows While Lalonde Uses Stick

N.Y. RANGERS WHIP DETROIT

Those who like their hockey rough, and their name is legion, were pulling to-day for a series between Montreal Canadiens and Maroons in the Stanley Cup playoffs. They expected clashes that would rival the Denny-brooks of those colorful days when hockey was less grown-up, when referees seldom left a rink by the front door, and black eyes and cracked skulls were something to boast about.

Hockey League teams staged an affair yesterday evening that lacked nothing in the way of excitement. A fast fight between Joe Morens, Canadian centre, and Cy Wentworth led up to a battle between fiery Hooley Smith, Maroon star, and Leo Dandurand, grey-haired manager of Canadiens. Smith had scored the only goal of the game late in the first period, giving Maroons the city series and the Kennedy Cup. Dandurand, reports said, threw a hockey stick over the ice three times to draw referee Mike Rodden's attention.

LALONDE SWINGS STICK

Smith evidently resented the Canadian manager's actions and the two aimed punches at each other over the boards. Newy Lalonde was said to have struck at Smith's head with a baton, Rodden saving the Maroon by pushing him out of danger. Maroon supporters attempted to waylay Lalonde, Canadian coach, as he left the rink but Newy was nowhere to be found. League action to discipline participants in the brawl is expected.

The win firmly entrenched Maroons in the Canadian division's second place, five points ahead of Canadiens and New York Americans, who tied the Habitués by playing a scoreless draw at Chicago yesterday evening. New York Rangers, seemingly not as hesitant about moving to the front in the American section as was thought, beat Detroit, Red Wings 3 to 1 yesterday evening in New York, moving into a tie for second place with Chicago, three points behind the Wings.

GOOD ATTENDANCES

Twelve thousands fans saw the hectic affair at Montreal, the same night the Detroit-Rangers game, there were 9,000 in Boston and 7,000 in Chicago, a grand total of 40,000 for the night.

Smith's goal, the goal that won for Maroons. He made the play himself, passing to Herb Cain at the blue line and racing in to take the puck and snap it past Lorne Rabot. Although the game was a bruising affair, Rodden had not in hand and imposed only two penalties until Morens and Wentworth tangled. They were not penalized.

Lester Patrick's New Yorkers ended Detroit's run of thirteen games without a defeat when they snapped a goal in the first period and added another in the third. Frank Boucher scored first on Bun Cook's pass and Cecil Dillon banged home a shot. Frank Carson scored Detroit's goal in the first and Murray Murdoch got the third Ranger counter.

Samuel Hittman, now coach of Boston Cubs, was honored at the Boston game with a "Hitchman night." Senators, the only team he played for, played for better brains. He did everything they could to make it an enjoyable evening for him but insisted on winning in overtime.

Wack Wack scored for the Oilers in the first period and Dick Clapper evened it up half way through the second. Young Syd Howe got the winning goal for Ottawa in overtime and he passed to Bushy Helle for another.

The American-Chicago scoreless draw was a listless affair. The New Yorkers, hailed as the most improved team in the league, backtracked continually and refused to give Tommy Gorman, Chicago's coach, a goal.

Villa-Stoke City

Match Holds Eyes Of Football Fans

Possible Opponents in English Cup Battle To-morrow in League Engagement

Arsenal Oppose Newcastle United

London, Feb. 23.—Arsenal and Huddersfield, sharing a slim lead in the first division of the English Soccer League, are both away from home to-morrow, but even so, Derby County is not expected to get back into top position, lost during mid-week. The County entertain Sheffield Wednesday, crack eleven just thrust out of the Cup fight by Manchester City.

The Arsenal will not select its team for the game at Newcastle United until to-morrow.

Tottenham Hotspurs are in a quandary, following the 6 to 0 white-wash suffered at Sunderland on Wednesday. Hunt and Rowe are likely to return to the attack for the game with Portsmouth.

Chelsea's midweek win over Liverpool was costly, putting Craig, continuing on the injured list. O'Dowd is also unfit, so the pensioners will have their hands full at Middlesbrough.

INTERESTING MATCH

Keen interest is being shown in the Aston Villa-Stoke City clash in London. Both elevens are in the quarter-finals of the cup, and it is yet possible they may clash in that competition—if the Villans can defeat the Gunners two weeks hence. Stoke City, who meet Manchester City in the cup, will rely on the team that defeated Chelsea.

Everton is making two changes for the match at Blackburn. White goes to centre-forward and Cunliffe moves to inside right. Meanwhile, Dixie Dean continues to lead the reserves, which now include five internationals, two of whom being the newcomers to Everton, Stevenson, Scottish and Coulter, Irish.

Feature match in the Second Division is another clash between two cup aspirants, Preston North End and Bolton Wanderers. In the cup, the former meets Leicester next week, while Bolton plays Portsmouth.

Glasgow, Scotland, Feb. 23.—Two unofficial Scottish Cup trials are among the feature matches as the Scottish soccer clubs get back to league warfare to-morrow.

Four of the quarter-finalists in the current draw together in first division fixtures. Glasgow Rangers, league champions, meet St. Mirren, while Celtic, the cupholders, battle Aberdeen. In the second division, Dundee United meets St. Johnstone, and St. Johnstone, the only other first division team left in the cup, battle Thistle.

Arbroath and Dumfries are still deadlocked for lead of the second division. To-morrow, Arbroath go to Brechin, while Dumfries play Brechin City.

BOUCHER NOW HOLDS SECOND

Frank Boucher, peerless centre of New York Rangers, was alone in second place in the Big Seven to-day. He broke his second-place tie with Joe Primeau, Toronto, when Rangers defeated Detroit, 3 to 1 yesterday evening, getting a goal and an assist to climb within four points of the Big Seven leader, Charlie Conacher, Toronto.

Hun Cook, Rangers, collected two assists to enter the select circle while Cecil Dillon, Rangers, obtained a goal to move into fifth place.

M.C.C. Headed For a Setback

Ceylon, Feb. 23.—The touring M.C.C. team found their headed for defeat at the end of the second day's play in the cricket match with a team representing India and Ceylon.

Kelart, Ceylon bowler, took five wickets for a total of seventeen runs.

RUBE BENTON IS RELEASED

Veteran Pitcher Washed Up After Twenty-four Years in Organized Baseball

Minneapolis, Feb. 23.—Unconditionally released after eight seasons with the Minneapolis American Association Club, John C. (Rube) Benton was without a job after twenty-four years of service in organized baseball. He is forty-four years old.

Benton was one of the game's better southpaws for almost a quarter of a century, nine years with the Cincinnati Reds and six years with the New York Giants.

When his arm grew weary his cunning carried him along and in 1931 when he was well past forty, Benton won twenty-two games to become one of the league's top hurlers.

FINAL RUGBY GAMES CARDED

Barnard Cup Series Terminates To-morrow Afternoon; Gunners Meet Scottish

Senior A rugby fifteens will ring down the curtain to-morrow afternoon on another season of Barnard Cup play, with two fixtures carded. Fifth Brigade, undefeated leaders, will battle the Canadian Scottish, at Oak Bay Park, while the Navy will be at Admirals Road. Both matches will start at 2:45 o'clock.

Gunners, with a long string of unbroken victories behind them, will go out to keep their record intact at the expense of the Scottish. The Fifth will field their strongest fifteen, determined to finish the cup play without tasting defeat, or having their line crossed.

Canadian Scottish are all primed for battle, and will be fighting all the way to humble the smooth-working Gunners machine. Afforded the last opportunity of upsetting the Brigade, the Scottish will trot out a formidable team, with hopes of finishing the Barnard Cup series with the honor of scoring the only victory over the Gunners.

Some of to-morrow's teams follow:

In Extremely Dull
Winnipeg Session

Canadian Press
Winnipeg, Feb. 23.—Wheat prices drifted lower in listless trading on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. The closing tone was firm, however, with quotations off 1/4 to 1/2 cent. May wheat closed the draw session at 67, with July wheat quoted at 68 1/2 cents.

Trading was extremely dull. Minor purchasing orders trickled into the market from commission houses, and for the most part quotations held steady at fractionally lower levels.

Lack of selling pressure was a big factor in the firmness. Export interest was at a minimum.

Chicago prices opened higher, but slipped fractionally from the top levels. Liverpool wheat finished 1/2 lower to unchanged.

A Mystery Novel

By K. S. DAIGER

"You and Mrs. Phelps were friends?" "We were very close friends although I had known her only since her marriage when she came here to live."

CHAPTER XV

"Did she have any enemies that you know of?" "No, indeed. Everybody loved her."

"Now, Mrs. Phelps, suppose you tell me just how you found Mrs. Paige that last night. You came alone, of course?" "Yes, quite alone. I drove over in my own car. Sunny seemed rather depressed and upset but I attributed that to her condition."

"Did you mention any phone call that she had received that day that had frightened her?" "No, indeed."

"Did she mention a letter that she had received in the morning mail?" "But Mrs. Phelps shook her head."

"What did you do all the evening?" "We went up to Sunny's boudoir and talked about all the things that women generally do talk about."

"I'm going to ask you a somewhat embarrassing question," began Anderson diffidently. "I hope you'll feel inclined to answer it honestly. Were Mr. and Mrs. Paige happy together?"

Mrs. Phelps colored and twisted her handkerchief nervously.

"I can't say," she started.

"Oh, come," interrupted Anderson. "Mr. Paige is your friend, too, and you don't like to tell tales on him? Is that it?"

Mrs. Phelps nodded gratefully. "Please don't repeat anything that I say, will you? It was rather common knowledge that Ranny stepped out. There was a lot of gossip about it. I made Sunny awfully unhappy. But they never quarreled or anything like that. She loved him devotedly and I think he loved her, too. But you certainly don't think that Ranny had anything to do with this, do you?"

"I'm not in a position to say whether Mr. Paige killed his wife or not," replied Anderson tersely. "These are simply questions which are customary and proper in cases of this kind. What do you know of this valuable jewel that Mrs. Paige wore frequently—I mean the pearl and diamond pendant?"

"Why, I suppose you cut the Charina's pearl. I don't know much about it. Sunny loved it and wore it a lot. Her father gave it to her."

"No, not exactly. I do know it was valuable though."

"Did Mrs. Paige ever tell you that it was not a genuine jewel at all but simply an imitation?"

Mrs. Phelps half-rose in her chair in genuine astonishment. "What do you mean?" she asked sharply.

"That pendant was not imitation. I know something about gems—that was a very good pearl although not large."

But Anderson made an effort to clear up his mysterious question. He merely smiled and started off on another tack.

"I'll ask you about something else," he said easily. "Now I don't want you to think that I am questioning Mrs. Paige's honor in any way, but I should like very much to know if she had any admirers, anyone who might have done this thing out of revenge or jealousy."

And now, closely observing Mrs. Phelps, I was certain that I saw a certain shadow of fear in her eyes. Instead of answering she pressed her handkerchief to her face and began to sob.

Anderson waited patiently.

"It's a very important question," he said.

"There wasn't anybody," declared Mrs. Phelps, still sobbing. "She loved her husband alone. Oh, this seems so horrible—I cannot believe that poor little Sunny is dead!"

"And is there nothing that you can tell me that will throw any light on the matter?" asked Anderson wearily, seeing that he had exhausted Mrs. Phelps's store of knowledge.

"Not a thing. May I go now?"

She rose to her feet and then I saw her sway slightly and her eyes grow distended as they rested on one of the French windows leading into the garden.

My gaze followed hers, just in time to see the outline of a white face pressed against the pane. I saw only the general outline, but it was certainly a face.

"The window! The window!" I shouted. "Somebody's there listening! You take the front door, Anderson, and I will go for the garden!"

In one instant we were all on the porch and the garden was alive with searchlights and officers. Not more than thirty seconds could have elapsed from the time when I saw the face and when I stood on the spot where it had been—yet there was no one there!

"Are you certain that you saw someone, Kay?" asked Anderson at length, when every inch of the garden had been searched.

"I wonder if you aren't seeing things!"

"Dead certain," I answered. "I don't know whether it was a man or a woman, but I certainly got a glimpse of a white face peering in at us."

The Inspector examined the ground under the window carefully, but due to a long dry spell the baked earth failed to show any impression. The officers stationed at the entrance and the garden walk reported that no one had entered or left, and Mrs. Deane, the housekeeper, who was at work in the kitchen, likewise had seen no one loitering about.

Perhaps ten minutes had passed before we turned back to the house, and just as I set foot on the porch, I saw a funny thing happen. Through the lighted window, I caught a glimpse of Mrs. Phelps turn hastily away from the rosewood desk in the library—the one which I had seen Anderson lock earlier in the day.

I was not sure that the neighbor had been tampering with it, however, and before I could report what I suspected, Anderson and Carroll had passed me and gone on into the room.

The Inspector's face was grim. I knew that he resented the fact that the intruder—whatever it may have been—had escaped us.

"Now, Mrs. Phelps," he said, to the lady who was still standing, "you are certain you saw someone at that window?"

"Indeed, I did," she replied. "I cannot tell you if it was a man or woman, but I saw the outline of a face pressed close to the screen as if someone were trying to overhear us."

"Maybe one of Judson's men," said Anderson, in an aside to me. "That's the kind of a trick he would pull. Though I don't see how he managed to get away so quickly."

Uncle Wiggily Goes Tramping

(By HOWARD R. GARIS)

"Oh, dear!" said Uncle Wiggily. "Oh, dear!" said Mrs. Longears. "Oh, dear!" said Nurse Jane. Fuzzy Wuzzy.

All three were sitting in the hollow stump bungalow looking at Raggle, the jolly tramp rabbit who had been visiting them for a time. And the reason they said "Oh, dear!" was because Raggle had said he was going to leave.

"Really, I can't stay any longer and visit you," spoke the tramp rabbit. "You have been jolly well kind to me, but as I said before, I never stay long in one place. I'm a tramp bunny. I love to roam about the country, winter and summer, sleeping in any hole I find and eating when I can. Really it's been very nice here in the bungalow, Uncle Wiggily, but I must go."

And as Uncle Wiggily and his wife and Nurse Jane were sorry when he said he must go.

"Couldn't you stay another week?" teased Nurse Jane. "I'll bake you some lovely pancakes."

"Your pancakes are the best I ever nibbled," laughed Raggle, the tramp rabbit, "but still I must go on. Why," he said, looking at Mr. Longears, "I have teased and teased and wheeled the Fox, the Wolf and the Bad Cat for you so you need no longer fear those Bad Chaps for many a long day."

"I know," said Uncle Wiggily, "but still I'd like to have you stay. There are other adventures we may have besides those with the Bad Chaps."

"I suppose so," agreed Raggle, "but still I must go on my way. I want to be on the tramp again."

Then, exclaimed Uncle Wiggily popping out of his chair, "I am coming with you!"

"What?" cried Nurse Jane.

"What?" cried Mrs. Longears.

"I am going tramping!" said the rabbit gentleman with the pink and twinkling nose. "Since Raggle has been here he has told me so many stories about the fun he has tramping, that I am going with him!"

"You mean you're coming with me?" asked Raggle.

"Yes," said Uncle Wiggily.

"Hurrah!" cried Raggle.

"Oh, dear!" said Nurse Jane.

"Oh, dear!" said Mrs. Longears.

"What's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"To think of you going to be a tramp!" sighed his wife.

"Why, it's jolly good fun to be a tramp," said Uncle Wiggily. "See what fun Raggle has scouting about the country and having adventures I never even dreamed of."

"That's right," said the jolly old tramp rabbit. "We'll have fun together, Mr. Longears. But you really ought to put on an old ragged suit of go tramping with me. I think I'll lay off this nice suit of yours you let me take and go back to my rag."

"Oh, no, don't do that!" begged Nurse Jane. "You look so much nicer, Raggle, in Uncle Wiggily's suit. Please keep it."

"Yes, do," said Mr. Longears. "As for me, when I go tramping with you I'll wear my faded suit, but not a ragged one. Can't we be well-dressed rabbit tramps as well as ragged ones?"

"Oh, I suppose so," Raggle answered. "Well, let's be going!"

"Oh, Wiggie!" sighed his wife. "I shall be so lonesome without you. And to think of you sleeping out of doors in a hole under the snow."

"Don't worry," said Raggle, "I'll take a thermos bottle of hot carrot soup with you," said Nurse Jane.

"Yes," we could do that," agreed Raggle.

So the two rabbit gentlemen, having bidden good-bye to Nurse Jane and Mrs. Longears, set out tramping together to look for new adventures. Uncle Wiggily didn't wait to say good-bye to his little bunny children. I think perhaps he felt he would cry a bit if he did.

"Well, now I'm going tramping!" sang Mr. Longears as he hopped along. Raggle laughed and said he surely was. And soon after that they had their first adventure. I'll tell you about it to-morrow night when the story will be Uncle Wiggily goes tramping. But please don't let the door knob turn around so fast that it makes the keyhole dizzy. For then the pussy cat can't climb through to lay tag with the puppy dog.

Paris, Feb. 23.—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday granted Premier Gaston Doumergue power to slash government expenses by decree, after he had threatened to resign if the authority was not given him.
